

RWE remains committed to engaging with the Covina community and providing information about the role of battery energy storage in supporting California's clean energy future. As our community outreach continues, no City Council hearing is currently anticipated in the near term. We will continue working to ensure residents have access to accurate information about the Covina Reliability Project's benefits and safety.

Kimberly Comacho
Senior Manager, Utility-Scale Development
RWE Americas